

Tasks Galore looks at developing multi-modal activities to address skills in the curriculum areas of fine motor, readiness, language arts, math, reasoning, and play. Task examples are designed for beginning and/or adapted curriculum students.

$42.95 US 59 pages Spiral Bound

Tasks Galore For the Real World is a valuable tool to prepare older elementary students, adolescents, and adults for independence in the home, school, community, or workplace. Task ideas are categorized by domestic, vocational, independent living, and job skills and aid transition from school to workplace.

$42.95 US 66 pages Spiral Bound

Tasks Galore Making Groups Meaningful aids teachers, parents, and therapists in applying structured teaching techniques within classroom groups, specialist classes, and even parties. Designing meaningful home and school group activities involves integrating IEP goals, individualizing structure and communication, and teaching rules.

$49.95 US 70 pages Spiral Bound

Tasks Galore Let's Play utilizes play as the program for learning. Evidence indicates that directly teaching play skills can increase symbolic understanding and have impact on imitation, language, and social skills. Structuring ideas enhance students' toy play, flexibility, and social interactions. Printable visual supports generalize to multiple learning situations.

$59.95 US 119 pages Spiral Bound

Climbing Art Obstacles in Autism provides art activities tied to early learning themes. Colorful photos of sequenced activities and checklists of materials encourage independence in early learners. Projects develop visual-motor, communication, and conceptual skills. Included are easy-to-use detachable pages.

$39.95 US 59 pages Spiral Bound

Literacy Enhancement Strategies was designed for students with HFA and Asperger Syndrome. The supplemental strategies offer information and hands-on materials to help educators explain the nebulous world of oral and written communication to those with social thinking challenges. A CD with printable handouts is included.

$25.95 US 157 pages Perfect Bound

Listen and Collaborate (set of 10 questionnaires) enables parents to share insights into their children's learning. By participating in educational planning, parents feel a partnership with professionals and learn how to advocate for their children's learning needs. Teachers benefit by understanding their students' best learning style and helping them make smoother transitions to new settings.

2 Versions:
Preschool/Elementary; Adolescent/Adult
$19.95 US each

Special Savings on Book Sets - $179.95

Set ONE

Tasks Galore Book Set
all four Tasks Galore books

Set TWO

Early Learner Book Set
all four early learner titles

Tasks Galore donates partial proceeds to organizations that provide services for people with autism spectrum disorders and their families.